25X1	2.	On 25 March, a parade at the field. Five columns each consisting of 120 officers and HM and a military band were observed. The officers were dress uniforms.	25X1
25X1		(fnu) and Garatshuk (fnu) were assigned to the airfield personnel. 3	*
25X1	3.	On 8 April, about 40 air force officers arrived at Altes Lager camp.  In the following days, they were repeatedly seen walking to the field when flying was conducted there by Il-28 or Wil-28 planes  Repeatedly a major with white hair was seen among the 40 air force officers who carried map cases but did not wear leather jackets. After 16 April, these officers participated in flying activities. They used the B-25 plane.4	25X1
	4.	In mid-April, wide lanes had been staked off from the airfield toward Beinrichsdorfer Forest. Fields located in the western extension of the runway and belonging to farmers at Malterhausen were confiscated. However, the owners still had access to their property. It was runored that houses at Niedergoersdorf were to be vacated. In non-routine activities at the field such as clearing up activities and intensive cleaning operations. There was an unusual stir among the airfield personnel.	25X1
	5.	Air activity observed at the field from 3 through 17 April included:
- - - - -		April. From 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., jet bombers practiced individual take offs. About 11 a.m., 9 jet bombers took off in groups of two, the second group beginning to taxy when the first had become airborne. After flying a circle over the field, the planes assembled into squadron wedge formation at an altitude of 800 meters to 1,000 meters. After about 30 minutes, the planes returned at an altitude of about 1,500 meters and broke formation from the left. After 4 p.m., I1-10s which took off and landed in groups of two made local training flights. Twenty-two I1-28 or Ui1-28 planes, 27 single-engine aircraft, 2 high-wing monoplanes and 1 biplane were observed at the field. Night flying was conducted until after 8:30 p.m. The airfield lights were in operation.
25X1 25X1		IL-23s practiced individual take offs, groups of two Il-23s took off, assembled into one formation and returned after about 20 minutes. Subsequently, an Il-23 took off and repeatedly crossed the field at an altitude of 4,000 to 5,000 meters being circled by two jet fighters. Individual	25X1
25X1		IL-28 or Uil-23 planes made local training flights. Single-engine planes practiced flying Weather was scattered until noon and then became cloudy. A total of 22 Il-28 or Uil-28 planes, 24 single-engine aircraft, 2 biplanes, 3 high-wing monoplanes, 1 Li-2, and 2 B-25s were observed at the field.
25X1		17 April. 3 Il-23s took off at intervals of about one minute. The planes returned after 30 to 35 minutes and landed individually. A high-wing monoplane was seen aloft.

25X1	6.	On 3 April x 37-mm AA guns at the emplacement east of the runway. No date computer was observed. In mid-April, the radio installation with one mast previously observed about 1,000 meters east
25X1		of the runway had been removed. Another radio installation consisting of one mast were seen about 1,000 neters east of Danna.
25X1 25X	7. 1	On 11 April, Lieutenant Colonel Streltsov (fnu) stated at a conference in Werder that the planned improvement of Jueterbog airfield was not to be executed. The employees of the Bauunion Spree also believed that Jueterbog airfield would not be improved because another airfield was to be enlarged.
25X1	5 .	on 20 April, a four-engine plane approached from the north, flew two circles over Justerbog at an altitude of about 1,000 meters and then again headed north. The plane was fitted with a single-rudder assembly and plump engine stubs.
25X1	1.	Comment. Justerbog Altes Lager airfield is still occupied by a ground attack and an air reconnaissance regiment. The ground attack regiment is believed to be equipped with 55 to 60 Il-10s; the air reconnaissance regiment with 22 to 26 Il-28s. On 8 April, Il-10 formations took off from the field for bomb release practices at the Kummersdorf bomb range.
25X1	2.	Comment. These firing practices involved elements of the 2d Gds AAA Div of the COFG and the 62d AAA Div (US) of the Third Gds Mech Army.
25X1	3.	Comment. Kalinogorski, whose rank is unknown, is mess officer of supply unit Tsodvell, while Captain Garatshuk belongs to the OATB of the air reconnaissance regiment.
25X1	de e	comment. It is believed that these officers attended a course, because the white-haired officer, Major Kokoshin (fnu), is assigned to the air force technical school at the field.
25X1 25X1	5.	orment. The intended improvement of Justerbog Altes Lager airfield was reported previously.  The information contained in paragraph 7 cannot be verified. Meutenant Colonel Streltsov is chief of the Projects and Contracts Department in Werder.
25X1	6.	Comment. The existence of this AAA emplacement was known previously.
25X1	7.	identification of its type. Reference is made to the four-engine plane which, on 7 April 1953, was observed over Schoenefeld and which was
25X1		believed to be a B-17.
